Five physicians have been named to the Super Doctors® - Internal Medicine "Hall of Fame" list (awarded for being selected each of the past ten+ years) published in the special advertising section in TEXAS MONTHLY. These "Hall of Fame" Internal Medicine physicians include our Managing Partner Martin R White, MD; Delfino F Garcia III MD; Matthew L. Lenz, MD; Nicholas P Solenne, III, M.D., PhD, FACP; and IM sub-specialist/Cardiologist, Patrick J. Cook, M.D., FACC.

Also selected for this year's Texas Super Doctors® honor, for Internal Medicine: John F Eichelberger, MD, FACP; Bhakti D Khatri, MD; Kelly M O'Brien, MD (after named to Texas Super Doctors® Rising Stars Edition for three consecutive years); Ann H Radcliffe, MD; for Cardiology: Arup Achari, MD., FACC.

More than 40,000 physicians were asked to nominate colleagues they would choose in seeking medical care. The research team then further researched the nominees and evaluated them on key indicators, including peer recognition, professional status and disciplinary history.

Doctors were then grouped into 33 specialties and the physicians with the highest scores were asked to serve on a blue ribbon panel and score the candidates in their specialties. Finally, the doctors with the highest total points from the nominating surveys, the research, and the blue ribbon panel review were named to the list.
